Company History

Horn’s Gaslight Bar
In 1915 Ed Horn began working for the Michigan Life Saving Service located at Round Island Lighthouse before the U.S. Coast Guard was in charge of lighthouses. He was stationed on Mackinac Island with his wife, Violet, and their three sons, Amos, Archie and Raymond.

In the late 1920’s, Edward and Violet leased the current Horn’s Bar building and ran a pool hall and snack shop business which was to become the current Horn’s Gaslight Bar. After the prohibition era ended in 1933, Horn’s Bar was one of the first liquor licenses issued and was open year around and became a favorite of locals and tourists alike. The name of the business has changed a few times from The Palm Café, to simply Horn’s Bar, and currently to Horn’s Gaslight Bar. Ed Horn passed away in the early 1950’s and Patti’s Grandfather Amos, and Grandmother Nell ran the business till the late 1970’s. Her grandparents passed the business on to Patti and kept it in the family for a third generation. Patti and Steven have been running the business since 1979.

The Moskwa’s have worked to update the interior of the bar giving it the look of a turn of the century saloon since taking over the business. Prominent features include the tin ceiling and the old back bar which is a replica of an original Brunswick design, built by Holsinger Manufacturing of Kawkawlin, Michigan.

Horn’s is a full service bar/restaurant open for lunch and dinner, seven days a week from May through October. We are known as one of Mackinac Island’s favorite drinking saloons and nightspots with entertainment and dancing and have a seating capacity of 125. Horn’s is also a favorite for Mexican/Southwestern dining, along with our traditional American fare.

The Yankee Rebel Tavern

Built in 1995, the Yankee Rebel has gained a reputation of serving quality food in a comfortable setting. The theme of the restaurant is an early 1800’s tavern. A tavern at that time was a place to gather and meet with friends and dine. The décor includes a fireplace, period lighting and the rich wood tones of tables and chairs. Seating capacity is 145. Open for lunch and dinner seven days a week with a full service bar that offers a wide selection of wines by the glass. Group functions such as rehearsal dinners, wedding receptions, reunions, etc. are often held here as well.

The Yankee Rebel Tavern is named after Ambrose Davenport who was enlisted with the U.S. Army and assigned to Fort Mackinac on Mackinac Island in the late 1700’s. Upon leaving the Army he stayed on Mackinac, became a landowner, married and started a family living in the current west bluff area. When the War of 1812 started the British captured the Island and took control of the Fort Mackinac. They required all residents to swear allegiance to the English Crown. Ambrose and a few other prominent men of the island would not do so and were arrested by British and interred at Fort Detroit till the end of the war. When Ambrose refused he simply and proudly declared “I was born in America and am determined, at all hazards, to live and die an American citizen.” His wife and family remained on the Island. Mrs. Davenport was harassed and insulted by the British as they referred to her as “the wife of the Yankee Rebel”. Ambrose returned home to his wife and family in 1815 following the end of the war and lived on his farm until he died at the age of 87 in 1858. His homestead still remains standing today.

Treat each and every customer as you would want to be treated when you dine out. Each employee should strive to uphold this standard, as his/her job performance will be measured by it.

You are to return the aprons to the dirty laundry bin at the end of your shift. Socks are to be worn at all times. Shoes, not open-toed sandals are to be worn. Because you will be on your feet, shoes with a good arch support are recommended.

Employee Meals Employees of Horn’s Bar and Yankee Rebel Tavern may receive a 40% discount on their meal if they have worked or will work a full shift that day. Employee meal orders are to be given to and entered by a bartender. Eligible items for meals shall include appetizers, soup, salads, some but not all entrées and desserts. Alcoholic beverages are not included in the discount. When on duty, employees may drink sodas or juice from the dispenser, coffee or tea and one glass of milk free of charge. Any other beverages must be paid in full at that time. No tabs will be allowed. We ask that you do not take your employee meal during our rush times: 12:00 noon to 3:00pm & 5:00pm to 9:00pm. You are expected to pay for your meal at the time you order it to the bartender and sign your slip. All employee meals must be entered in the Micros computer system. Kitchen staff won’t make meals unless a ticket prints in the kitchen.

Reviews and Raises  All employees are given a review by his/her manager after the first month of employment. Raises are given on the basis of merit, rather than length of service. Raises can also be given out periodically for superior job performances. Cost of living increases are given at the discretion of the owner.

Promotions Horn’s Bar & Yankee Rebel Tavern tries to promote from within whenever possible. As positions become available, qualified personnel will be given first chance to interview for the position. Notices will be posted on the bulletin board concerning the positions that need to be filled.

Section C – WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM HORN’S BAR AND YANKEE REBEL TAVERN

Employee Use of Social Media Websites

Horn’s & the Yankee Rebel encourage their employees to enjoy and make good use of their off-duty time, however, certain employee activities may become a problem if they have the effect of impairing the work of another employee. Harassing, demeaning, or creating a hostile working environment for any employee, disrupting the smooth and orderly flow of work within the company, directly or indirectly disclosing confidential or proprietary information, or harming the goodwill and reputation of either restaurant among its customers or in the community at large may result in employee disciplinary action up to and including termination.

1. Employees may use social media (print, broadcast, digital, and online), in any way they choose as long as they do not violate this policy. Horn’s & Yankee Rebel reminds its employees that in their use of social media, both on and off duty, they are prohibited from postings that:

   a. reveal proprietary and/or confidential business information;

   b. contain discriminatory statements, harassing, demeaning or sexual remarks regarding co-workers, management, customers, or vendors;

   c. have the potential or effect of involving the employee, their co-workers, or Horn’s and/or the Yankee Rebel in any kind of dispute or conflict with other employees or third parties;

   d. interferes with the work of any employee or disrupts the smooth and orderly flow of work within the office, or the delivery of services to the company’s clients or customers;

   e. harms the goodwill and reputation of Horn’s and/or the Yankee Rebel among its customers or in the community at large.
2. No employee of Horn’s or the Yankee Rebel may use company equipment or facilities for furtherance of non-work-related activities or relationships without the express advance permission of the manager.

3. Employees who conduct themselves in such a way that their actions and relationships with each other could become the object of gossip among others in the office, or cause unfavorable publicity for Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel in the community, should be concerned that their conduct may be inconsistent with one or more of the above guidelines. In such a situation, the employees involved should request guidance from a manager to discuss the possibility of a resolution that would avoid such problems. Depending upon the circumstances, failure to seek such guidance may be considered evidence of intent to conceal a violation of the policy and to hinder an investigation into the matter.

4. Should you decide to use a blog or to create a personal blog, you must provide a clear disclaimer that the views expressed in the blog are the author’s alone, and do not represent the positions, strategies or opinions of Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel. These prohibitions apply to any posting or blogging occurring at any time, on any computer.

5. All information published on any employee blog(s) should comply with Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel confidentiality and disclosure of proprietary data policies. This also applies to comments posted on other social networking sites, blogs and forums.

6. Be respectful to Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel, co-workers, customers, clients, partners and competitors, and be mindful of your physical safety when posting information about yourself or others on any forum.

7. Your online presence can reflect on Horn’s and/or the Yankee Rebel. Be aware that your comments, posts, or actions captured via digital or film images can also affect our company image.

8. Do not discuss company clients, customers or partners without their express consent to do so.

9. Do not ignore copyright laws, and cite or reference sources accurately. Remember that the prohibition against plagiarism applies online. Horn’s and/or the Yankee Rebel systems may not be used for any illegal activity, including downloading or distributing pirated software or data.

10. Do not use any Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel logos or trademarks without written consent.

11. Employees must comply with any other policies on electronic communications.

12. Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel may monitor social networking sites.
13. This Social Media Use policy is not intended to interfere with any right or rights extended under the National Labor Relations Act.

The absence of explicit reference to a particular site does not limit the extent of the application of this policy. If no policy or guideline exists, Horn’s and/or Yankee Rebel employees should use their professional judgment and follow the most prudent course of action. Any questions concerning this policy, or violations of this Social Media Use Policy should be directed immediately to your supervisor or the General Manager.

Violation of this policy will subject an employee to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, depending upon the circumstances.

Employees will complete and sign the following form during training onsite.
